

Prior Notice of The Spanish-Finnish Seminar in Legal Theory and prior
Call for Papers

The Law School of the University of Eastern Finland and the Finnish Association for the Philosophy of Law (SOFY) as the organizers of the seminar in co-operation with the Law Faculty of the University of Alicante announce the Spanish-Finnish seminar in legal theory which will take place in Helsinki (Finland) on 2nd - 4th September in 2020.

The theme of the seminar will be “Fact and Value in Law”. The focused questions are: what is the role and significance of facts and values in the domain of legal knowledge and should legal knowledge be treated as descriptions of facts, understanding of values or something else? These topics have been central for many distinguished scholars in the history of legal theory, like Alf Ross. The seminar will contain a tribute section about Ross.

This is the preliminary call for papers about current issues in legal theory and philosophy and participation in the seminar for all scholars of legal theory and philosophy.

Let’s have and enjoy together the nice and late summer days of Helsinki packed with the traditional and current issues of legal theory and philosophy!

Further and more detailed information will be provided later and since 17th January, 2020, by the organizers and on the websites of the law school of the University of Eastern Finland:
